Rold Actions in Missouri-Missouri will be saved to the Union, and restored to peace but it will be done by the same means that brough Maryland to terms, and not by any such "agreement" as Gen. Harney was too ready to make with the rebel chief of a rebel band. Fire and sword, and not regrets or assurances, are to wipe out the foul disgrace which the arch traiter Jackson has brought upon the State government of Missouri, and when next he visits St. Louis to effect a settlement, it will doubtless be in chains, and marching to a scaffold .-If ever, upon all th's broad land there was a deeper dyed traitor than he, then history has falled to do its duty. He has filled up the list of his treasonable acts by raising arms and levying war against the Government under the exploded humbag of "repelling State invasion."

Let us be thankful that Gen. Lyon has command in Missourl. He has shown himself to be of the right stamp. He has no parleys to make, no compromises to offer. He sees a battery pointed towards him and goes at it-not with a flag of truce, but with Just sent out his proclamation of war, and ithe news of the attack upon the Ohio boys at Vienna a force of between four and five thousand was immediately dispatched to a force sufficient to take it. He hastens to hoists the stars and stripes over the dome of reinforce them and capture the battery, and the State House. Civil Soldiers. We have had enough of surprises like those at Great Bethel and Vienna. The generals commanding our forces at those engagements may explain the dissatrous results to their own satisfaction but they will not do it to the satisfection of the friends of the soldiers under their commands, nor will they be likely to gain the confidence of their men by such operations. Gen. Scheuck may be a good lawyer but because he was defeated for U. S. Scuator last winter, it does not follow that he is at liberty to kill off the Ohio volunteers by his military blunders .-No imputation of cowardice and loss of all presence of mind rests upon him, as upon Gen. Pierce, but one may as well be a coward and hang back, as a reckless leader, and plunge forward with his men, into the heart of our enemy's country without proper percautions. Let our civilians if honest, be appointed commissaries or paymasters, if they
